EDUCATION

PURIS believes growers need tools and support to transition land to a farming system that supports generations to come. GREEN FARM™ education provides growers with tips on fostering water quality, building biomass, and improving soil health.

TRAINING

Everyone can learn a new concept, but the key to success comes from applying what you know to what you do. GREEN FARM™ training is a personalized program developed to fit the needs of PURIS growers and teach useful practices that will enhance biological activity on the farm.
