

LESSON 2: PHYSICAL & MENTAL HEALTH/ROAD RAGE

Road Rage

Aggressive drivers increase the risk for everyone on the road.

- ❖ According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, one-third of the three million crash injuries, and two-thirds of traffic fatalities could be a direct result of road rage
- ❖ Is Road Rage a distraction, and if so, why?
 - Absolutely
 - Road Rage takes your mind off the road and puts your sole focus on the other driver
- ❖ Road Rage increases the risk of a crash and could lead to violence if it goes too far

Activity: What causes road rage?

Write this question on the board and list student responses one at a time until you receive no more answers.

*Next post this heading on the right side of the board: Driver errors that could cause road rage.

Go through your students' list of causes and see how many of them were driver errors and list them under the new heading.

Can you think of any other driver errors that might cause road rage?

Continue creating the list of driver errors and when students no longer have responses fill in the blanks from the list below and then discuss each:

- ❖ Lane blocking
 - Double parking on the street
 - Blocking the passing lane when other drivers are going faster
- ❖ Invading space
 - Tailgating
 - Improper lane change
- ❖ Communication errors
 - Failure to signal
 - Signaling too long
 - Using high beam headlights approaching another vehicle
 - Flashing high beams unnecessarily
 - Honking the horn unnecessarily
 - Improper hand gestures
- ❖ Poor parking
 - Taking up more than one space
 - Parking too close to a line
 - Parallel parking too close to a vehicle in front or behind
- ❖ Waiting too long at a light
- ❖ Other concerns: Make sure these three items are in the causes of road rage list
 - Using your cell phone
 - Sensitive car alarm
 - Bumper stickers with offensive slogans
