together, we accomplish great things

At Fathom, our goal is to help marketing leaders make the biggest possible impact with time and resources. That's why we're deeply rooted in outcomes —tying every decision to objectives we identify together and sharing clear-cut metrics to hold ourselves accountable.

This is the place for a deeper look into the unique marketing challenges we help solve, the digital expertise that shapes a critical point of view, and the business results we achieve together with our clients.

lead like a marketer, think like a ceo

by steve kessen

Your success as a marketing leader has always come down to your ability to deliver an exceptional customer experience for the end consumer. This is no different today. Your CEO sits at the other end of your stakeholder spectrum. Responsible for moving the organization forward and creating shareholder value, your CEO is increasingly looking to you, the marketing leader, to drive growth.
