Teaching to Produce Mastery

We are committed to the development of future filmmakers, producers, and behind-the-scenes professionals.

Our fellows have the opportunity to connect with industry professionals and be exposed to the future of filmmaking through the course of their work and during specially designed interactions with leading artists, executives, and innovators.

We aim to cultivate the talents of our fellows with our unique learn-by-doing approach.

For the second consecutive year, our fellows program is generously sponsored by BET Networks™.
