Prisma

The Prisma suite secures your public cloud environments, SaaS applications, internet access, mobile users, and remote locations through a cloud-delivered architecture. It is a comprehensive suite of security services to effectively predict, prevent, detect, and automatically respond to security and compliance risks without creating friction for users, developers, and security and network administrators.

Prisma SaaS

All users on your network use SaaS applications. Prisma SaaS addresses your cloud access security broker needs and provides advanced capabilities in risk discovery, data loss prevention, and data governance. Use Prisma SaaS to manage and secure the sanctioned SaaS application usage on your network, and reduce the risks of malware propagation or exposure.

Prisma Cloud

Prisma Cloud provides comprehensive visibility and threat detection to mitigate risks and secure your workloads in a heterogeneous environment (hybrid and multi-cloud). If your organization is leveraging public cloud platforms and a rich set of microservices to rapidly build and deliver applications, Prisma Cloud offers cloud-native application security controls for public cloud platforms, hosts, containers, and serverless technologies.

Prisma Access

Use Prisma Access to simplify the process of scaling your Palo Alto Networks® next-generation security platform so that you can extend the same best-in-breed security to your remote network locations and your mobile users without having to build out your own global security infrastructure. Prisma Access is the industry's most comprehensive secure access service edge (SASE).
