

Menu

- News
- Learn
- Features
- Coins
- Reviews
- Collections

Reading

Search

About

Today

How Satoshi Nakamoto may have kept his identity secret

Few details are known about the private creator of Bitcoin, and new evidence might reveal why. Analysis of early Bitcoin code hints that Satoshi Nakamoto may have relied on a Russian proxy ser...

News • Business
Will Heasman • Jun 4, 2020

2 min read

Bitcoin's hash rate rebounds strongly after the halving

Despite taking a big hit after Bitcoin completed its third halving back in May, Bitcoin's hash rate is now showing strong signs of recovery. Currently sitting at around 116.6 TH/s, the Bitcoin...

News • Coins
Daniel Phillips • Jun 4, 2020

2 min read

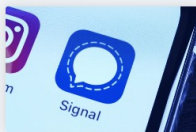

A Picasso artwork was just sold for cryptocurrency

A Pablo Picasso artwork, Danse du ventre devant homme impassible, has been sold for cryptocurrency—the first time an entire, original work by the world famous artist has been sold in this way....

News • Business
Adriana Hamacher • Jun 4, 2020

3 min read

Demand for privacy app Signal is exploding in light of the protests

Privacy-focused messaging app Signal has seen a sharp spike in its popularity as protests continue to spread across the US. It has been downloaded 121,000 times in the US since May 25, accordi...

News • Technology
Liam Frost • Jun 4, 2020

2 min read

Bittrex, Poloniex added to major Bitcoin class-action lawsuit

Cryptocurrency exchanges Poloniex and Bittrex have been named as defendants in the ongoing court case against Tether and Bifinex, which alleges that the USD/T stablecoin issuer purposely infla...

News • Business
Greg Thomson • Jun 4, 2020

2 min read

The Cardano (ADA) price is on fire right now

Cardano (ADA) has been on a roll lately, scoring back to back price gains while the rest of the market struggles to maintain its earlier momentum. In the last day alone, Cardano has gained 6.7...

News • Markets
Daniel Phillips • Jun 4, 2020

2 min read

Bitmain co-founder storms China office with a dozen security guards

Bitcoin mining company Bitmain's co-founder and CTO Micree Zhan, who was kicked out of the company last year, hired a dozen security guards to take back control of Bitmain's China office, acco...

News • Business
Tim Copeland, Forkast News Staff • Jun 4, 2020

3 min read

Bitcoin, gold most likely assets to thrive in 2020, new report claims

The latest commodity analysis from Bloomberg forecasts that Bitcoin and gold will continue to outperform other commodities in 2020. In the market analysis and media firm's June 2020 commodity ...

News • Coins
Colin Harper • Jun 3, 2020

2 min read

The most popular Steem dapp just migrated to rival network Hive

The most popular decentralized application on the Steem blockchain, crypto-based trading card game Splinterlands, has defected to Hive. Hive is the rebel blockchain network created as an escap...

News • Technology
Robert Stevens • Jun 3, 2020

3 min read

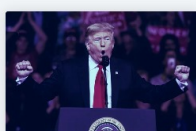

How blockchain can help us through this crisis

Can blockchain affect social change? Definitely. Blockchain has a lot of applicability to social change. It has the potential to help us out of the current mess, and allow us to live to live i...

News • Opinion
Paul McNeal • Jun 3, 2020

4 min read

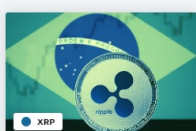

Actually, Twitter is going easy on Donald Trump

When Twitter chose to hold President Trump to account for the platform's rules last week, many argued the platform was enforcing those rules unevenly. As it turns out, the platform is unevenly...

News • Technology
Jeff Benson • Jun 3, 2020

3 min read

Ripple executives had a word with Brazil's central bank president

Ripple is expanding in Brazil, and its efforts in the country are becoming more noticeable. According to the agenda posted to the official website of the Central Bank of Brazil, the bank's pr...

News • Business
Jose Antonio Lutz • Jun 3, 2020

3 min read