Who We Are

VietCorps is a charitable organization based in the Washington, D.C. area, focusing on developing and implementing programs for Vietnamese-American youths and young professionals to participate in volunteer and community service projects in Vietnam. VietCorps is a new organization established by a group of Vietnamese-American professionals with diverse training/backgrounds, such as legal, business, finance, engineering, and technology. Our founding members have traveled, worked, and volunteered extensively in Vietnam. We are also active in the Vietnamese-American community on various projects.

Our Mission

Our mission is to develop and implement volunteer service programs in the US and Vietnam. Our projects will focus on education, community engagement, volunteerism, and cultural exchanges.

VietCorps desires to make positive contributions to our communities in the US through community-building initiatives and to provide assistance to poor communities in Vietnam.
