Inklings

Tired of Playing the Same 'Ole Games?

Inklings is an exciting new game for kids that strengthens their math skills as they try to avoid the ink and get the highest score. A great way to have a blast while promoting early learning.

Try something new! Inklings

During the Spring of 2020, Inklings was created by Joshua and Lauren after their school year ended due to a pandemic. After getting tired of playing your typical family card games they wanted to create something that was fun, different and engaging. Also, they wanted kids to have fun spending time with their families and to get better at math. Thus, Inklings was born or as they say – hatched! They designed the characters and game play. We hope you enjoy!

Playing with Family!

Learning Made Fun!

Boost Confidence and Recognition

Learning math can be challenging for many young students. Inklings cards help kids learn how to quickly recall information and numbers which instills self-confidence. This means kids can start playing and learning early, so they can be better prepared in elementary school (Kindergarten-5th grade).

Interactive and Engaging Play

In Inklings, kids will use simple strategies to keep cards a secret, swap or block cards, and even use memory to find their next move. Perfect for early learners who love math or need extra math support. A great way to have a blast while promoting early learning.

Fun educational game. In our family, the 8 year old liked it but it was a bit hard for the 5 year old. Nice bright eye catching images on the cards.
