At the foundation, machine intelligence enables a vastly improved real estate closing process.

Our transformative technology platform is central to our success and a key enabler of the life-changing value we deliver to our customers.

Built on an autonomous tech stack, the platform uses machine learning to intelligently execute and automate workflows involved in a real estate transaction. By accessing thousands of historical transactions and hundreds of public data sources, the platform is able to quickly retrieve, process, and action data needed to manage and execute a transaction.

Features

Doma Intelligence automatically sources public and private data to power machine learning algorithms that eliminate the rote tasks of today's manual closing process. No more countless hours spent reviewing, printing, analyzing documents, wrangling a frantic process, and chasing responses. With Doma intelligence on their side, lenders and real estate professionals experience the joy of a simple, efficient, and affordable closing experience.

Data Rich

Powered by extensive public and private data, proven and trained on 30 years of historical closings.

Patented Technologies

Industry-leading protected technologies to predict, streamline, and optimize the entire process.

Expert Operating Team

Specialized team dedicated to leveraging the platform to drive your business and customer satisfaction.

15%
Faster Closing

Spending up time to close creates a delightful experience for customers and a higher likelihood of closing.

>80%
Title prepared in minutes

Machine intelligence reduces the vast majority of title commitments in about 1 minute instead of 3-5 days.

50%
Fewer touches

Reduces human intervention to drive large efficiency gains and transform the traditional title & escrow process.

Case Study
homepoint

"With Doma a process that used to take days or weeks now takes less than a few hours."

Willie Newman
