About Us

Home / About Us

Entelect, with head office in Melrose Arch, Johannesburg, is South Africa's leading software engineering and solutions company. The company was founded in 2001 by Dr Charles Pritchard and is now the home of a significant grouping of the most highly qualified software engineering professionals in South Africa, with a stable and loyal client base. A simple business philosophy of "hiring the best", coupled with pragmatic management, re-investment and an unwavering focus on quality allows Entelect to continue growing at a rapid rate without the need for external capital injection.

Vision

Our long term vision is to be the world's best software engineering and solutions company, measured by the value we deliver to our clients, our employees and the greater community.

Mission

Our mission is to deliver high quality software engineered solutions to the world's leading companies by maintaining the highest employment standards, activating our collective potential and living our values.

Values

Our business values are centered on honesty, integrity and excellence. We embrace these through the continual facilitation of a nurturing, positive, light-hearted and collegial working environment.
