PPE sterilization is possible in just one minute if a reliable UV-C sterilization box is calibrated with a UV-LED germicidal wavelength between 275 and 280 nm. Based on several published NIH research studies, this narrow band is considered the most effective wavelength for denaturation of proteins in microorganisms; and it is proven to kill viruses and bacteria even more efficiently than soap and water. I'm a full-time resident of Arizona; and we are doing everything possible to sterilize our existing PPE supply; since we are in a horrible situation at the moment. Stay safe everyone!!
