Five kinds of business insurance

Workers' Compensation Professional Liability / E&O Commercial Auto Tools & Equipment

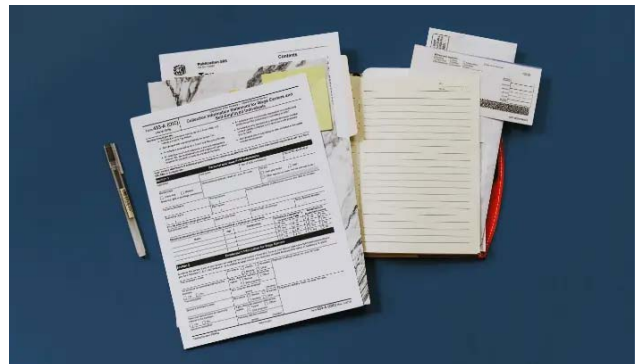

Accidentally damaged customer property? General liability insurance makes those uh-oh moments okay by covering a wide range of incidents and basic risks. Contractors and cleaners can add tools and equipment coverage to protect their gear, as well.

Here's the deal: If you have employees, most states require workers' comp coverage. But unlike most insurance companies, our coverage is 100% designed for small businesses. So like your doting mother reminding you to bring a jacket, we're here to make sure you always have the right coverage.

If you make an error, we've got your back. Get professional liability insurance / errors and omissions insurance and you'll be protected from certain types of lawsuits and claims.

Vehicle-related damage shouldn't mean you have to pump the brakes on a payday. With commercial auto insurance, you're covered for dents, dings, tows and damage to someone else's property. Add hired and non-owned coverage for additional protection with rented vehicles and occasional use of employee vehicles.

Add a tools and equipment upgrade to your general liability insurance. If your gear ever gets damaged or stolen, we'll be there to abracadabra them back in a flash.
