About Passion Placement

Passion Placement is a job board and community focused on connecting people with mission-driven organizations doing work that matters to them. We curate every job that we post to make sure member companies are in support of sustainable living, animal advocacy or creating alternatives to animal based products.

Here organizations post positions, both paid and volunteer, profit and non-profit that support sustainability, compassion and well-being through animal advocacy, developing solutions to climate change and creating a healthy plant-based food system.

In a nutshell, our goal is to assist mission-driven companies in filling positions with employees and volunteers that share their purpose of making the world a better place for all beings. While, at the same time, helping people put their passion to work by helping them find their perfect opportunity to make a difference and feel good about what they do.
