About EndocorpUSA

If you're in the healthcare industry, you know that procuring reliable and affordable medical equipment can be a major drain on your time and require a lot of effort. And whether you are looking to purchase completely new or just looking to upgrade your current system, quality and delivery time may take a backseat to your department's budget.

But what happens after you purchase your equipment? The increasing costs to maintain and repair your equipment almost always end up exceeding your upfront costs to acquire the equipment.

Fortunately, EndocorpUSA has been supporting industry professionals for over 20 years saving healthcare professionals time and money in servicing and maintaining their medical equipment. Our extensive experience in repairing endoscopes, endoscope equipment, and surgical devices has made the difference in our customer's attitudes towards their equipment.

At EndocorpUSA we are dedicated to making our customers' lives easier along the entire life cycle of their equipment, from purchase to retirement. In our goal to offer an unrivaled customer experience, we are committed to supporting your equipment's repair and maintenance needs, saving you time and money.

How EndocorpUSA is Different?

EndocorpUSA's primary objective is to provide the healthcare industry with an economically viable alternative to acquiring and servicing brand new medical equipment. All without sacrificing on the quality of repairs or delivery time. EndocorpUSA accomplishes this in four ways:

Our Quality

By developing a customized and fully streamlined repair process in our National Service Center, we ensure that our customer's repairs receive the utmost care, from intake of your endoscope to shipment back to you.

Our principal technicians guarantee that your endoscope meets or exceeds OEM specifications each step of the repair process.

Our Value

With our expertise in component level repairs, our vast repair capabilities, and the biggest OEM parts inventory in the world, EndocorpUSA is able to provide our customers with the best in-class repairs at an affordable price.

We provide a cost savings up to 60% over the OEM and up to 40% over other independent service organizations (ISO).

Our Repair Capability

With over 1 million OEM parts in stock, we are able to provide repairs using 100% capital OEM parts. This allows our technicians to repair obsolete endoscopes that would otherwise be deemed un-repairable. And because our National Service Center has direct access to our dedicated parts warehouse, turn-around time for repairs is quicker than the industry standard.

This allows EndocorpUSA to directly increase the lifespan of our customers' endoscopes.

Our Expertise

We are only as good as our people. And for over 20 years we have deeply invested in our in-house technicians to ensure that they are industry leaders in endoscopy repair.

Unlike OEMs that offer "black box repairs" of entire assemblies, our technicians are highly trained in component level repairs.

OEM Endoscopy Parts

What makes EndocorpUSA so unique is our OEM Endoscope Parts inventory. There is no other company in the world, with a fully stocked inventory of quality endoscope parts like ours. You can count on the quality of your endoscope repairs knowing that we are the largest stocking supplier of OEM endoscope parts in the world. Our OEM endoscope parts go through stringent quality control procedures from the moment they arrive in our warehouse to the moment they are shipped to your facility. Learn more about our OEM endoscope parts below.

OEM Parts vs. Aftermarket Parts

Most independent service organizations rely on aftermarket repair parts in their repairs. These reverse engineered parts, do not match in the quality of original endoscopy parts made by the original equipment manufacturer. For capital replacement parts that are critical to the operation of the endoscope and that the doctor handles or that are inserted into the patient, OEM parts are more durable and reliable. That's why we use 100% capital OEM endoscope parts in all of our repairs.
