

ONLY THE BEST FOR THE ELITE

After over two decades of experience and service, we have developed our own highly effective, easy to use, eco-friendly line of Elite protective and restorative product to protect and maintain our Elite clients' assets.

Our products have been created to give our customers professional quality results that are DIY-friendly (Do It Yourself) by following our easy to understand directions.

Boat, yacht and other watercraft owners know very well, the effects exposure to underwater conditions have on both the underwater and above water parts of their water vessels. Elite World Coating has developed a unique system and product line to protect your watercraft from the harsh conditions of the underwater environment, such as the corrosion created by salt water and fouling on the hull caused by the accumulation of algae and/or shells.

The efficacy of our system and products eliminates the traditionally exhausting & complicated process of detailing and coating your asset. It makes the surface so repellent to the damaging effects of the sea, drastically reducing the frequency and cost of maintaining their watercrafts and eliminates the need for any additional waxes and products.

Our protective coating application product can also be used for automobiles, aviation, industrial uses, machinery and home.

Whether you want to use our products on your own craft, or want to include our products in your business' services, we provide comprehensive training for proper and effective usage of our Elite Detailing product line.
