Center for Health Affairs

The Center for Health Affairs needed to upgrade their Microsoft Dynamics CRM 2011 system to CRM 2016 and was looking for a tool to assist in migrating the data. Their previous data integration solution required processes to be set-up across multiple integration platforms which made it difficult to manage the execution of integration jobs.

Better Bathrooms

Better Bathrooms were using a tool that allowed them to extract data from an API and write it to a flat file which could then be brought into their SQL Server. However, they started experiencing limitations with this solution as they needed to work with new APIs, particularly when it came to extracting data from APIs feeding data in JSON format.
