Having trouble logging in to Legion. Manager sent me a code, when I tried to log in it accepted my last name but would not accept my email.
- Legion Technologies September 14, 2021

We sincerely apologize for the troubles you've had. Your store manager can provide you a new invitation code, or please contact us at help@legion.co and we can send you a new one. Thank you.

Like knowing when I work just by having this app. Could be better if I was able to see. My day to day time punches. Only shows what i'm supposed to work. Does t say if or when I punched in or out and the total for that day or time period. Also be nice to be able to send messages to other team members...

Thanks Chris for your comment! Good news, seeing punches and worked time in the app is coming very soon. The app supports communication capabilities but enabling it is at the discretion of the employer. Re shift notifications, if you enable calendar sync, you will be able to set how early you want the notification to show. Hope that helps!

Infuriating. I log in and it says lets customize your profile enter in everything. Then click the arrow to go to second page and it's just a circle spinning nothing else. This has to be one of the worst apps Ive ever used. i'm trying to see my work schedule but the app doesn't work. :(
