DESCRIPTION:

• Peavey proudly introduces its 100-channel, true diversity Pro Comm PCX U-1002 wireless systems for live voice and guitar reproduction. PCX U-1002 systems are available with handheld or hands-free microphones and feature automatic channel scanning and control for user-friendly operation. The Pro Comm PCX U-1002 employs AutoScan technology, which allows it to automatically search for non-interfering channels to resolve abrupt changes in frequency and maximize your wireless system performance. In addition to AutoScan on the receiver, the transmitter features CCS (Channel Control System), which sets the channel of the transmitter rapidly and precisely. A handheld, lightweight magnesium belt-pack transmitter utilizes an LCD that displays channel and battery status and group information. The compact PCX U-1002 receiver occupies one half-rack-space, includes XLR and 1/4" outputs and features a color LCD panel displaying function statuses.
