About this item

- REDUCE INFLAMMATION– By mitigating inflammation and delaying the onset of muscle pain, our cold water therapy tubs become the ideal way to speed up your recovery process. Optimize your performance and improve your healing with our premium ice recovery tubs.
- FREE PROTECTIVE COVER - Included with every order, we provide a FREE protective cover to make maintenance even easier! Preventing bugs, leaves, and other debris from falling into your water, you can enjoy faster recovery with even less effort!
- SUPERIOR QUALITY AND DESIGN- Unlike inflatable tubs that pop or cheap, thin water tanks that require daily maintenance, our portable ice baths are built with the highest quality materials available. Built to withstand even the harshest winter elements, our recovery ice baths will last for years to come.
- EASY TO MAINTAIN – Our tubs are ultra-easy to clean and require minimal maintenance. We recommend changing the water every 10 days or as preferred. To drain the water tank, simply turn the tap and unplug the Easy Flow Drainage System at the bottom of the tub. Simply rinse the tub out and replace the water! Water cleanliness can also be maintained with water stabilizers or UV purifier.
- LARGER SIZE - Measuring 80 cm (diameter) X 70 cm (height), our ice water tank bathtubs are large enough for you to sit in with your legs crossed. Suitable for people up to 6'7", our tubs have a greater capacity to help you relax even more

★★★★☆ Looks good, no leaks, just a little small for full immersion

This is a great looking pod for cold plunging. It sets up quickly, and has everything you need to get started. Our whole family uses our plunge, so it's a variety of sizes. I'm around 6 feet tall and 220. My son in the photo is 6'1" and 167. The water level is where it is, in order to not overflow when I plunge. I can not plunge any deeper than he is in the photo, he could probably fully immerse, if the water level were higher. We keep our plunge on the lanai, and I don't want water flooding out each time.

We are using the Vevor 1/4 HP chiller. It got the water down to 61 degrees the first night. It started at 88 degrees. It's very hot here in south FL. The second night it got down to 56 degrees. I think for this to be a cost effective option, and to reach colder temps, it'll require additional insulation. The layers of material do seem to provide some insulation, but not nearly enough. The pod sweats a lot all day long.

We really like the concept of this plunge, but I think we need a larger one. Mostly because of my size. If

But I really want the option to fully immerse, and not spill water over. It's a good tub, and a fine option, as long as the few compromises to adversely impact your situation.

I recently had the pleasure of experiencing the exceptional customer service provided by Mike, the owner of the Polar Recovery Ice Tub. After encountering an issue with my initial purchase, Mike promptly sent me a free replacement, and I couldn't be more pleased with the outcome.

First and foremost, let me emphasize the outstanding quality of the Polar Recovery Ice Tub. This product has truly revolutionized my post-workout recovery routine. The tub's design is not only sleek and durable, but it also effectively retains the cold temperature, allowing for a refreshing and soothing ice bath experience. The spacious interior comfortably accommodates my entire body, ensuring maximum coverage and optimal recovery benefits.

However, what truly sets the Polar Recovery Ice Tub apart is the exceptional customer service provided by Mike. When I reached out to express my concerns about the initial purchase, he promptly responded and ★★★★☆ great first jump into ice bath culture

Reviewed in the United States on July 13, 2023

I've used this product for a few weeks now and really like it. I wanted to start incorporating ice baths into my daily routine, but didn't want to splurge for a super pricey one before understanding how much I'd use it. This was the perfect entry point for me. Easy to put together + very portable. I also like that it comes with a top. Gave it 4 stars because it doesn't keep the water super cold for very long, but it's summer as I'm writing this, so I'm sure it will keep longer once the temps come down into the fall.

★★★★☆ Well made and so far no leaks

Reviewed in the United States on June 13, 2023

I have had this for about 10 days and used it about 7 times. The tub is well made, since it cost me $250 a month for a Cold Spa membership, I will soon make this back. I am 6'3" and if it was just slightly larger I could get fully submerged. That is my only gripe. Please give us a second option of a tub 2-4 inches larger in diameter and if possible, 2-4 inches deeper. I placed it on my back deck, I put it on a foam mat I had and the water temperature is 56-62 degrees in the morning. So-far no hot days. A 16 pound bag of ice only decreases the temperature by about 4 degrees, so best to use first thing in the morning. Overall I am happy with it and when it wears out, I will buy another, but PLEASE make a slightly larger model.

Updated - Mike from the company worked with me to get a replacement shipped quickly. I must say the company stands behind the product and will work to correct any issues that arise. Thanks again to Mike. I updated to four stars. I am still not sure how long the replacement will hold air.

Original - The product has plenty of space and I would imagine anyone under 6'3" would be fine sitting in this tub. Very easy to set up and only takes about 15 minutes. However, the parts begin to fail with use. I have used the tub twice at this point and the inflatable ring no longer holds air. I have attached a video of me attempting to pump

This company has great customer service and stands behind their product! Upgraded my rating from two to four stars.

Used it for the first and only time last night. I woke up this morning and the inflatable ring was flat, I pumped it back up and when I checked it 30 mins later it was deflated again.

UPDATE:

When I first used the ice bath there was a small issue (see below)

I reported this issue to the seller who immediately apologised and rectified the issue by issuing a refund and sending out a replacement asap which this time is flawless.

Cannot fault the customer service at all, outstanding. at the end of the day things can slip through the net but it can't be helped I understand that and to me it speaks volumes about the company how this was rectified which was fast and efficient. This is one of the reasons I chose this company as they are UK based.

Would definitely use again.

Initial review:

I received this product on 11 July and when I went to set it up on the evening for the first time there is a leak from the bung in the very bottom of the ice bath on the floor section. At first I thought I had not put it ★★★★★ Amazing product and customer service!

As a family we wanted to improve our mental and physical health. I heard a lot about ice bath therapy and decided to buy one for father's Day knowing that everyone in the family would use and benefit from it. The Polar Recovery Tub was very reasonably priced and the only tub I could find with 12 months warranty. My husband was thrilled to receive his tub but unfortunately there was a tiny hole at the very top which only leaked when the water level increased when the tub was occupied. I contacted the seller, who instantly replied reassuring me of a replacement. I had several messages keeping me informed of my replacement, tracking information etc. I have never experienced customer service quite like this. Amazing! This is why we should support small businesses as they look after their customers. I can't tell you how impressed I am of their level of service. I would recommend them whole heartedly.

The tub, is incredibly easy to put together, it takes up little space In the garden. It comes with an elasticated lid that keeps bugs and leaves out, a floating thermometer, water outlet spout with hose and pump for inflating the comfortable ring around the top of the tub. It's incredibly sturdy and very spacious inside. We are already enjoying the benefits of the tub and only wish I'd bought one sooner.

★★★★★ Great ice bath

Reviewed in the United Kingdom on July 6, 2023

After seeing all the benefits of using an ice bath, I bought this product as a fathers day gift. However, I have ended up using it the most! The ice bath is great for recovery after a long training session or just to cool down during the summer. As i am quite tall it is a bit of a squeeze but i'd rather that than use up more water. One of the many things I like about this product is the ice pack. It is large enough to cool down the water but isn't too big that it takes up all of the freezer space. Overall it is a very good, affordable ice bath that I would highly recommend.
