The 2020 NSA Annual Conference will be here sooner than you think, and we can't wait to see everyone in Newport Beach, CA in early July! Registration will open soon but starting today, we are accepting proposals for workshops.

The NSA is always looking for fresh, fun, and informative workshop ideas to help attendees learn more about stuttering, its impact and how to live one's best life.

Interactive small group discussions on provocative topics make for great workshops. Cutting-edge research sessions are also well-received. Workshops about careers, relationships, advice for parents, covert stuttering, overcoming stigma, and self-acceptance are always favorites. And, don't forget about fun and helpful sessions for kids, tweens, and teens!

Together, let's make the 2020 NSA Annual Conference the best one – it all starts with your workshop proposal.
