Question: Can this be used for a 22 gallon rimless aquarium? And does it have a remote control and change to moonlight color light?

Answer: Depends on how wide the 22 gallon is. It will light up a 20x20 or a 20 gallon tall anything more might get 2 lights. It will fit on a rimless best. It won't fit on most rimmed tanks. Fits my 10 gallon but not my 37 column aquarium. There is no remote and only one light setting. White led

★★★★☆ It's a dud

Reviewed in the United States on May 19, 2019

Size: 16"-24" | Verified Purchase

Item arrived on time and well packaged, but looks like it had been used before (some wear and tear around the exterior lamp and cable). Light did not function at all, despite following the instructions and trying every single outlet in my house. It's a shame, as the design is exactly what I wanted for my tank, and was right within my budget. Opted for a return instead of a replacement, to avoid more disappointment.

★★★★☆ A beautiful light but not functional

Reviewed in the United States on February 25, 2020

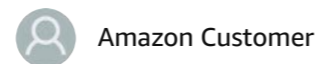

Size: 16"-24" | Verified Purchase

The light is very aesthetically pleasing. It is simple and clean looking which goes well with rimless tanks. My issue with this light is that it gets warm for an LED. It is VERY bright and may strongly contribute to algae blooms in your tank. It is so warm that it changes the temps in my nano aquarium which I do not like because it is out of my control. I also did not score this product higher because it does not work with a timer which in the aquarium hobby is a necessity. And finally, the clip that supports the light on the edge or rim of the tank is not good. This light is very top heavy and has a tendency to want to tip to one side. This is very dangerous and poses a risk to electrocuting your fish or starting a fire if it were to fall into the tank. You may be able to counter weight it at the bottom with some slight modifications but that's beyond me.

★★★★★ Great little nano tank light

Reviewed in the United States on March 27, 2019

Verified Purchase

I purchased this light for a low tech nano aquarium (7gal). It is working great, I really like the minimalist appearance of the unit - the "cool white" is spot on for the light itself.

I prefer not to have my lights attached to the glass, so I built simple stand out of some scrap wood. The light about 4-5" above water surface.

Not enough data on plants yet, but they seem fine thus far. All easy (java fern, anubias, sword, cryptocoryne) - so expecting they will grow steadily. I recommend it for low tech/budget.

★★★★★ Great price for a simple design

Reviewed in the United States on December 11, 2018

Verified Purchase

Great simple look for my 3 gallon bowl. I clipped it onto a DIY 1/4" wooden frame behind the bowl as I didn't want to clip anything onto the bowl itself. The color of the light is indeed "cool white." It arrived well protected in a cut out foam fitting inside another box.

Update: original plants died before a fish was added, now I have new plants which are doing well with the fish, this light, and Flourish once per week

Update 2: dwarf hairgrass doing well in controsoil with floaters and no fertilizers or CO2

★☆☆☆☆ Be warned, this is junk

Reviewed in the United States on May 18, 2020

Terrible . Super cheap. Very dull. Maybe equivalent to a 8w led flood light so probably making 700 or so lumens , for 38 bucks. No thanks. I can't see how they Advertise 25 watts plus you are thinking this is one single cob led right? Nope , it has 6 Cob leds so presumably each one is running at 4 watts each. Yeah right. This thing is slightly brighter than a 3 watt led I got on a pick tank. Stay away. I don't get where or why people said this was bright. They must have been using incandescent bulbs.

★★★★☆ Great design and light for planted tanks.

Reviewed in the United States on August 26, 2019

So far so good. The planted tank is responding well to this led spot light. For its unique design and money this is a great value for its type.

The picture is a ADA 60S 10GAL. Planted with baby tears throughout. The focal/spectrum reaches the edge of this tank. Perfect for my setup.

Sad that this is now sold out and only available used. Any plans to re-stock?
This light is exceptionally good. I've been using it on 3 of my 20 gallons (long) aquariums, which also happen to be planted. The plants I have do not require very high spectrum but they're still growing out of control with 0 algae issues.
