Make sure you don't need more than come in a pack

Verified Purchase

I bought these hoping to feel confident about hanging 2 windows with 6 of the larger hinges, mounted so that the hinges are at the top of the window and a mechanism opens the windows outward from the bottom.

I'm a little on the fence as to whether they will support the weight of the window (with longer fasteners, obviously), as well as force of wind/rain/etc. I could probably use them, but I think I'm going to buy something designed for heavier use. These are obviously not designed for that use, I just thought to try them for the price. Fortunately my wife does furniture projects, and I do yard/house projects, and I'm sure we'll use these somewhere.

On to the negatives...

Straight out of the box/bag, 4-6 of these hinges were either bent or so tight that they wouldn't be useful. Only a couple were bent, and could probably be bent back if they won't be visible while in use. The others were machined with such tight tolerances that they don't want to open and close without

Far better deal than buying small packs at big box stores.

They are sturdy and easy to use. I build or repair things that need hinges often. Good price for multiple hinges.

Good hinges for my shop cabinet.

Reviewed in the United States on September 20, 2019

Verified Purchase

I used these for my have tool cabinet. I have 4 interior doors and place 2 of the smaller hinges in each door. I cut hinge mortise for each one so by the time I did 16 I was getting pretty good at it. So far these have held up very well.
