🤔🤔 Just speaking the truth! If I'm making money I want everyone else to be on the same boat so that in a few years we can all relax and see our money working for us! @Paulkulbabinski

This chat is extremely valuable from every way you could think of. Nour is extremely responsive and works effortlessly. The main reason I've stuck around is because of the consistency he shows. After you join you'll think: "damn, I wish I joined this chat sooner". Don't procrastinate like I did, join now

The value the chat added to my trading is impeccable. Great people overall and Nour does his due diligence on a daily to keep the BAG 🍷 heavy.

I joined the chat based off a recommendation from @Rizzy. Nour gives good signals, it's my first week and I nearly doubled my account size. The lessons are good because most of my questions are answered. The only thing I wish Nour did was webinars showing himself analyzing the charts, but other than this the chat is great. I take more Ws then Ls and when I do take an L I keep them small. Cheers to the good work

I joined the chat a little less than 4 months ago. I was very new and impatient and did my own trades which was a big mistake. after taking major losses and actually following Nour afterwards I started to see my flaws. This chat is really something you should be proud of Nour. You've built a team/community of people that are kind, have the same objective, and help each other out. This chat is amazing and it's very family like.

I'm here to second everything Liam just said x2 because I actually got the course also on top of the chat. I've said it once and I'll say it twice for the record.. if you seriously want to get some bread REALISTICALLY, throw down that $200, it's ups and down in the market everyday. But since I've been in.. there has not been a day, even when the market is terrible where nour & his managers aren't helping out and making us money. PERIOD.

the community that Nour has is something else. People supporting and guiding people, suggesting trades, encouraging people to study up and get better. I thank Nour and his team for allowing so many people to pursue something great. 🙏🔥🔥
