

About

Amy Tripp, MS, LMSW, is an experienced astrologer, a licensed therapist in New York and Connecticut, and founder of Starheal. Amy's main interest is spreading her passion of astrological information through social media and through her personal readings. She is a maverick who views astrology as an effective tool for psychological understanding and healing. A background in psychology, and counseling skills combined with astrological knowledge inform her approach.

Since 2014, Amy has offered hundreds of readings for clients worldwide, including celebrities, major recording artists, models, professional athletes, and influencers. Amy believes that astrology can help us heal, and that healing is a matter of becoming more aware, empowered and connected.

Amy has been featured in online publications such as Huffington Post, Bustle, Refinery 29, and Yahoo. She has also been a guest on several podcasts and featured at different events. Her tweets on astrology are used as a way to educate others about the accuracy and beauty of astrology.

“Astrology is a language. If you understand this language, the sky speaks to you.” —
Dane Rudhyar

Amy lives in New York City, but is a lifelong North Carolinian. Her educational background includes a BA in psychology from the University of North Carolina, a MS in Counselor Education from East Carolina University, and a MSW from New York University. Amy is self-taught in astrology with the extensive help of a mentor. She believes there is always something new to learn making the studying of astrology life-long.

Amy is a member of the National Council of Geocosmic Research, a nonprofit organization dedicated to raising the standards of astrology education and a certified member of The International Society of Astrology Research (ISAR) dedicated to advancing astrological education, research and promoting high standard of ethics and competence. She is also a member of the Uranian Society and the Organization for Professional Astrology (OPA).

Amy fosters strong relationships with other astrologers and healers and works with people of all ages, races, genders, and origins.
