Product description

What lead to different standard of bicycle bottle cages ?

It all depends on what material is used and the manufacturing process.

A cheaply made bottle cage will bend and crack when too much force is applied.

This Bike Bottle Cage contents screw bolt adjustment system, make the grip arms slide to fit different diameter bottles.

The water bottle cage has arms that wrap around the bottle for a secure and firm hold so you don't have to worry about it falling out during your ride.

This Aluminum Alloy and Plastic combination has no welded pieces so it can expand to your water bottle better!

Notice:

Bike frame requires threaded holes for installation of cages.

Features:

- * Material: Aluminum Alloy + engineering-grade plastic
- * Two Screws Include for standard size water bottle cage mounts.
- * Light weight and anti rust
- * Rust-free : This water bottle cage is 100% rust-free and will last a very long time
- * Works on all road, mountain,commuter, fixed-gear,other bicycles
- * Fits for most standard-sized and over-sized bottles

Package include:

- 1 x Bike water bottle cage
- 2 x Screws

DMack

★★★★☆ Adjustable, but...

Reviewed in the United States on June 22, 2020

This holder is lightweight and easy enough to install - just need to get a little creative with how you hold the screwdriver because the holes line up with the outer part that hold the bottle. It is in fact adjustable, but the plastic part where it attaches to the bike frame is very narrow so it doesn't go around the bottles no matter how much you adjust it. It effectively pushes the bottle away from the frame so it's not very secure. I even re-adjusted to make smaller again but unfortunately it seems to be a design flaw. Still using for now, keeping an eye on the bottle when I go through a rough area of the ride.

This product is very flimsy. A standard size deer park water bottle does not stay in.

★★★★★ Works great and Expandable

Reviewed in the United States on June 25, 2017

Verified Purchase

This is perfect for my needs. Easy to install and I really like that it expands for bigger bottles.
