About Moissanite

Moissanites was first discovered in 1983 by a French scientist named Henri Moissan, who later won the Nobel Prize in Chemistry. He discovered the microscopic particles of the gem in a crater created by a meteorite that fell to Earth and later the gem eventually bear his name in Arizona. Research shows the gem is composed of silicon carbide, which is more brilliant than the other gemstones. Natural moissanites is incredible rare, but we own a professional production team, who successfully produce perfect synthetic moissanites stones. Because moissanites is higher than real diamond but its hardness only second to diamond, moissanites shares the jewelry market at lower cost, now moissanites is the best choice of fashion and elegance.
