What is Teletherapy?

Teletherapy is more commonly called online therapy. This refers to the use of modern telecommunication tools to enhance learning. It is the professional delivery of speech and occupational therapy services via a web-based platform. Our HIPPA compliant, interactive therapy platform includes built-in educational applications, online resources and videos, live documentation, whiteboard, and screen sharing. Additionally, users have their own personal dashboard where sessions, notes, and resources can easily be shared.

Growing Practice

In recent years, the demand for online therapy has been on the rise. There are now over 6 million children in need of online special education therapy services. Location and travel are no longer barriers to working with the best professionals in the field. We service schools districts and families in ALL 50 states. Our licensed therapists are carefully selected to meet our high standards of excellence.

What We Aim For

Connect Teletherapy aims to connect professional therapists to schools, clients, parents, and children. Our mission is to make access to therapy easier by connecting individuals to specialists completely virtually while receiving the same level of care and professionalism they deserve.
