

3-steps to becoming an irresistible destination

1. Define the story

Some places - like historic neighborhoods - come with lots of history. Others - like new developments - are writing a brand new story. We begin by engaging stakeholders to clearly define the story. This allows us to create a unifying narrative that affects every design decision moving forward.

2. Develop an Immersive Master Plan™

With our unifying narrative defined, we develop a Master Plan of interactive art installations, epic events, surprise and delight experiences, and digital storytelling to bring meaning to every place and moment.

3. Active the plan

We stay engaged all the way through as part of your project team. We work alongside your architects, engineers and contractors to bring the Master Plan to life. Our expert team of artists, designers, and manufacturers ensures excellent and on-time delivery as we work to make your community a Relational City™.
