Meet The Owner

LaQuinsia Allen

I was in the medical industry for 20 years and several years in women's healthcare. Now I am focusing on this full time. I suffered from many female issues and after doing some research on holistic wellness decided to pursue and become a Certified Yoni Steam Practitioner & Womb Massage Specialist. After helping hundreds of women I decided to take it a little further and become a Certified Yoni Steam Instructor to teach others to help women with their womb wellness needs. Holistic remedies that help women embrace their femininity. Yoni steaming is a physical, emotional and spiritual experience.
