

Marshall Cat™

Antibody Profile/Defined Specific Pathogen Free (APD/SPF)

BIORESOURCES

Background

Our Antibody Profile/Defined Specific Pathogen Free (APD/SPF) domestic shorthair cats are the leading feline model in the animal health and biomedical industries. The colony was originally established in 1975 by Liberty Research, and acquired by Marshall in 2018. Our cats are raised in a complete barrier, and are available completely unvaccinated and free of various feline pathogens, making them ideal for developing new veterinary medicines and vaccines for pet cats.

Breeding Barrier

Our barrier breeding facility is equipped with HEPA air filtration and positive pressure ventilation in the animal rooms. Comprehensive bio-security procedures have been implemented to maintain our high health profile.

Microbiologic Screening

The colony is routinely monitored for the following feline pathogens with no antibody titers present:

- Feline Herpesvirus (Rhinotracheitis)
- Feline Calicivirus
- Feline Panleukopenia
- Coronavirus

The colony has also been historically negative for Feline Immunodeficiency Virus, Feline Chlamydia and Toxoplasmosis.

Marshall Cat™ models are available unvaccinated or vaccinated against FHV (Rhinotracheitis), Calicivirus, and Panleukopenia.

We also offer a wide range of pre-shipment procedures, as well as biological products and diagnostic services.

- Hematology
- Serum chemistry
- Vaccinations
- Castration/Spay
- Additional pre-shipment surgical services
