

Services

Services

Laboratory Services

Delivery Services

Enrichment Products

Animal Health Research Services

Educational Materials

Laboratory Services

Marshall BioResources offers a wide range of laboratory services, including acclimation services, diagnostic testing, and collection of biological products. Various services are available at each of our breeding locations for all animals we provide. We also offer a wide range of microbiological screening services in the United Kingdom for additional species as well.

Please contact us for pricing or login to our site under Customer Access for more information about availability of various products and services in your region.

