What is a Catalytic Converter?

A catalytic converter is an important and expensive part of your exhaust system. It is required by law to be functioning for you to drive. The purpose of this device is to remove pollutants and toxins from your exhaust. The catalytic converter is installed between the exhaust manifold and the muffler. If it is stolen, your vehicle will be extremely loud and inoperable.

Why are more thieves stealing them?

Catalytic converters contain precious metals (platinum, palladium, rhodium) which are very rare and expensive. Thieves sell the converters to unscrupulous metals recyclers who in turn profit from the precious metals. It's easy to steal a catalytic converter. A semi-skilled thief can make off with your converter in less than one minute.

What is the SAFECAT Theft Protection Program?

SAFECAT is a dual system heat resistant marking label and etching of a unique code registered to your vehicle. In the event of theft, police can identify recovered catalytic converters with the SAFECAT marking system. catalytic converter theft protection system
