- [Appearance]The exterior appearance drew inspiration from the military and painted the car body with a unique camouflage color, making it perfectly blend into the wilderness environment. Equipped with a sturdy anti-roll cage, the car has a more pronounced wild temperament.
- [6 sets of real car lights]This remote control car has 6 sets of lights, including headlights, taillights, turn signals, fog lights, brake lights, and reverse lights. The headlights and taillights provide sufficient illumination, the turn signals emit warning signals, and the brake lights automatically illuminate when you brake.
- [Aluminum alloy beam + spring shock absorbers + 4-link suspension]This remote control car has an aluminum alloy chassis with a strong and rigid beam structure capable of withstanding various terrains. Its suspension system uses spring shock absorbers and a 4-link design to improve driving stability and comfort by reducing vehicle vibrations. Overall, it provides an excellent driving experience.
- [Super-powered remote control car]This remote control car has a transmission system with a 050T brushed motor, metal drive shaft, and metal gears, providing excellent power output and reliable transmission. The metal drive shaft has high strength and wear resistance, ensuring stability and durability. The metal gears provide high transmission efficiency and greater torque output.
- [Off-road running]This remote-controlled car has the ability to run on all terrains, whether it's rough mountain roads, muddy river banks, or sandy dunes in the desert, it can easily cope with them. It is
