Powered by cutting-edge science.

We collaborated with global leaders in organizational psychology to build the data engine at the heart of Plause. And we constantly refine the systems that collect and make sense of all the data, while keeping the app simple and human.

We come from places that know high-performance.

The team behind Plause has decades of combined experience in understanding talented people and helping them grow. In fact, one of us assembled teams that built iPod, iPhone, and Nest Learning Thermostat. Together, we believe that it's time for work to work better.
