

WE LOVE TRUE ENTREPRENEURSHIP

MANIFESTO

At Equidam we love true entrepreneurship.

The creativity, dedication and hardship that come with building a successful company really make us tick.

We believe every entrepreneur deserves a fair opportunity to succeed.

The ones who advance the world or do well for our planet even more so.

We aim to help them grow faster by empowering them to make their every decision truly value-driven.

We work side by side with our clients in developing their – and our – business.

Unbiased and open-minded, we often challenge what they tell us.

Because we believe getting to the bottom of things helps them– and us – get better.

Informed entrepreneurs make good companies great.

And great companies make the world a better place.

Welcome to Equidam.

Valuation, Technology, Human.

We are a tech company, with a leading financial background and a deeply human component. Technology allows us to leverage our financial knowledge, driven by our human side.

Make it worth it

Make it worth it is how we'd like the world to be: a world in which each person and each company undertakes a journey conscious of its potential and risks. Where ventures are not forfeited because of their hardships, but are not pursued because their risks are ignored. Even more broadly, the make it worth it is a cry for human potential, for unity in creating a future that benefits all of us. As, in the end, that specific contribution is the value that a company or an individual is bringing, and, thus, its worth.
