2010 supplier diversity portfolio

Advancing diverse sourcing through partnerships

Owens & Minor has had a long-standing commitment to advancing supplier diversity in healthcare. We have a recognized track record of developing diverse relationships and of championing processes for collaboration that build infrastructure and ethical business practices within a diverse group of woman-, minority-, and veteran-owned manufacturing and service organizations.

We believe our investment in supplier diversity and supplier development promotes a superior supply chain for our provider customers. We also know that a thriving community of diverse suppliers generates healthy competition and innovative delivery methods that can help drive cost out of the supply chain.

Supplier diversity and MediChoice®

As Owens & Minor's MediChoice® line has grown, our commitment to supplier diversity in our sourcing relationships has grown with it. In fact, today over 30% of MediChoice® product sales are sourced from woman-, minority- or veteran-owned businesses. Diversity has become a strategic advantage for MediChoice®. By choosing MediChoice, hospitals not only achieve significant savings on their medical-surgical supply purchases, but also they can advance their own supplier diversity goals.

“Commitment to supplier diversity is an integral part of Owens & Minor’s culture. We recognize that fostering relationships with minority-, woman-, and veteran-owned businesses drives innovation, deepens our understanding of our customers, fuels mutual growth, and strengthens the communities we serve.”

Amsino International, Inc.

Amsino International, Inc., established in 1993 by Dr. Richard Y. Lee, is a leading developer and manufacturer of disposable medical devices. The California-based, ISO-certified company produces IV/infusion, surgical, urological, enteral feeding/irrigation and patient care products, which are distributed globally. Amsino, a certified small and minority-owned business, also provides full-service contract manufacturing and sourcing services.

Two thousand employees strong, the company has in-house engineering and R&D teams. Its state-of-the-art manufacturing equipment produces a broad range of injection molded products. In addition, the company has radio frequency sealing, ultrasonic welding, aseptic filling, EtO and steam sterilization, and form-fill-seal packaging capabilities. Amsino products are assembled in medical-class clean rooms.

Amsino's relationship with Owens & Minor began in 2004. Today, Amsino supplies respiratory, surgical, personal protective wear and urology products to the MediChoice product portfolio.

The company's mission is to provide complete customer satisfaction in all areas of operations: product design and development, engineering, technical support, manufacturing, quality control and inspection, shipping and logistics, sales and marketing, and customer service.

AVCOR Health Care Products, Inc.

AVCOR Health Care Products, Inc. is a veteran-owned business enterprise, founded in 1984 by Fred M. Trainor, an Army veteran with over 45 years of experience serving healthcare. Mr. Trainor founded the Hospitex Division of American Hospital Supply Corporation and TecnoL, Inc. which is now a division of Kimberly Clark.

AVCOR's initial product segment was Compression Dressings featuring the Honeycomb Elastic Bandage with a knitted design and Velcro® closures to replace woven products with metal clip closures. The Honeycomb product soon became the premium elastic bandage market leader and it remains a leader today.

Over the years, additional innovative types of compression bandages have been added to AVCOR's line, including cohesive and economy knits and latex-free products. AVCOR introduced the first latex-free products in wound dressings and blood collection products with a unique lightly textured blue tourniquet in the late 1980s. AVCOR has sought to deliver product offerings that provide maximum nursing convenience, patient safety and therapeutic use.

AVCOR partners with Owens & Minor to provide MediChoice cohesive bandages and flat tourniquets.

Care Line Industries, Inc.

Care Line Industries, Inc. is a privately held veteran-owned, small business. The company has been a leader in providing high-quality patient care items in both bulk and kit form for over 40 years. Care Line has the experience and supply chain to meet the value-driven needs of its customers. The company started the commercial sale of non-sterile patient care kits in 1965 as a Promotion Service Company. In 1983, Care Line began manufacturing disposable and reusable bed pillows. Care Line now provides a complete selection of these product types through four manufacturing facilities.

Care Line knows the role that service plays in its success. Its customer service department is second to none and its goal is to work with customers to understand their needs and to help select products that will make the customer successful. Patient-comfort is the cornerstone of Care Line's decision making. One of Care Line's mottos is "small enough to care and large enough to serve."

Since 2004, Care Line has provided disposable, reusable and limited reusable pillows to Owens & Minor's MediChoice product line.

Cellucap

Cellucap Manufacturing Company is a woman-owned business enterprise that manufactures a full range of disposable protective apparel for the healthcare, food service, safety, industrial and food processing industries. The family-run business combines its company-owned, U.S. manufacturing capabilities with a strong import program to provide customers worldwide with a consistent, uninterrupted supply of high-quality products at competitive prices.

In 1998, Cellucap acquired Melco, a leading manufacturer of disposable garments. This acquisition strengthened Cellucap's product line, manufacturing capabilities, long-term supply chain relationships and distribution outlets nationwide.

The company provides products ensuring safety and also emphasizes safety in its manufacturing processes. For instance, its bouffant caps remain untouched during the entire production process. Cellucap works one-on-one with customers to select the proper fabric for safety gowns to provide the appropriate level of personal safety in various patient care environments.

Cellucap provides disposable staff apparel for Owens & Minor's MediChoice brand products.

Century Hosiery, Inc.

Century Hosiery, Inc. was founded by Kathy and Malcolm Martin in 1989 and is a certified woman-owned business. Century provides traction footwear for the healthcare and retail markets, manufacturing its products exclusively in the U.S. and applying strict quality control measures throughout the production process. The company's North Carolina headquarters houses knitting, dyeing, sewing, printing, warehousing and shipping operations all under one roof.

Originally, Century Hosiery outsourced knitting and finishing, but in 1995 it expanded its operations, doubled its staff to 70 and expanded its customer base. Today, Century has 140 employees and is fast becoming a leading U.S. manufacturer of medical footwear known for its reasonably priced, high-quality products and its customer service.

A partner of Owens & Minor since 2003, Century provides a full line-up of patient care slippers for the MediChoice product portfolio. In 2009, Century Hosiery was selected as Owens & Minor's MediChoice Supplier of the Year.

ColdStar International, Inc.

ColdStar International, Inc. is a woman-owned business enterprise that has provided a quality line of hot and cold therapy products for over 47 years. In 1963, Verlam Industries pioneered a new technology in cold therapy. In 1977, Sam Francis, CEO of ColdStar International purchased the assets of Verlam Industries and incorporated it as Jack Frost Laboratories, Inc. Francis insulated the first reusable instant cold pack to offer the medical community a solution for "Pennies per Application."

In the early 1980s, Sam began to implement improvements to the products and automate the production of hot and cold therapy products. Jack Frost became the first automated instant cold and hot pack company in the world. ColdStar International's enduring commitment to quality and innovation is its foundation.

Today, ColdStar International, Inc. produces a comprehensive line of the most innovative hot and cold therapy products. All products are American-made—manufactured in Northeast Tennessee. ColdStar supplies hot and cold therapy products to the MediChoice product portfolio.

Hydrox Laboratories

Hydrox Laboratories, a leading supplier to the healthcare and beauty supply industries, is a certified minority-owned business enterprise. The Illinois-based company's products are distributed to more than 5,000 hospitals and 3,500 retail establishments nationwide.

Founded in 1913, Hydrox is among the nation's oldest continuously running manufacturers. It is the U.S. patent originator of hydrogen peroxide solution, which it produced exclusively for 70 years. To serve a broader market, Hydrox expanded its product line in the early 1980s. Today, its products include mouthwashes, deodorants, hydrogen peroxide solutions, isopropyl rubbing alcohol, lotions and moisturizers, shampoos, soaps and hand sanitizers.

The company's 80,000 square feet of production and warehouse space is custom-designed to meet world-class standards for flexible manufacturing and fast response times for which Hydrox has won numerous supplier awards. Its leading-edge technology helps ensure reliable product purity and safety.

Hydrox supplies hydrogen peroxide solutions, isopropyl rubbing alcohol, mouthwash, lotion, shampoos and hand sanitizers to the MediChoice product portfolio.

Innovate Medical, LLC

Innovate Medical, LLC, is a small, woman-owned business that was founded in 2001 by Susan F. Johnston, a Tennessee patent attorney with a background as a pharmaceutical and polymers chemist. Having served as legal counsel for medical device inventors and businesses for several years, she acquired a group of medical device patents and formed a small working team to focus on product innovation and developing customer solutions and market strategies.

Since 2002, Innovate has been the nation's highest volume contract manufacturer of latex and latex-free rubber Esmark pressure bandages. Related medical products include Texstrip Elastomer bandages, which consistently rank high in customer satisfaction and reliability, Inno-Vascular brand latex-free rubber tourniquets, and exercise bands. Innovate's product development efforts include specialty niche disposable patient care devices and kits.

Since 2006, it has provided reeled latex-free tourniquets to the MediChoice line.

International Medsurg Connection

Founded in 1996 by husband-wife team, Dr. Omi Bhati and Nalini, International Medsurg Connection (IMC) is certified as a small, minority-owned business. The company offers a product portfolio that aims to help healthcare providers manage economic constraints while delivering high quality patient care.

The company began as a cotton textile supplier of OR towels, lap sponges, infant receiving blankets and gauze dressings. With that focus, IMC built strong relationships with custom tray manufacturers and medical-surgical supply distributors. Since its beginnings, IMC's product portfolio has grown significantly. The company now offers items in more than 11 distinct product segments and has annual sales exceeding $20 million.

IMC's core values center on quality and credibility in its product offerings. Supporting those values is a management team with over 50 years of collective experience in the medical field and a global presence with infrastructure in the United States and abroad.

IMC supplies patient care products to the MediChoice product portfolio.

Kerma Medical Products, Inc.

Kerma Medical Products, Inc. was founded in 1991 by wife-husband team, Joyce Kershaw-Reubel and Earl Reubel, as a minority and woman-owned business. In 2006, Joe Reubel became company president, making Kerma a minority and veteran-owned business.

Virginia-based Kerma originated as a manufacturer and supplier to the United States government. When Congress cancelled all federal direct supplier contracts several years later, Kerma refocused its business on non-government affiliated acute-care market. Today, the company has contracts with major group purchasing organizations (GPOs), it supplies products to over 60% of the nation's acute care hospitals, and it has regained some of the government-sector business it initially served.

In 1995, Kerma entered a Department of Defense Mentor-Protégé relationship with Owens & Minor. In 1999, the partnership earned a Nunn-Perry Award, granted by the Department of Defense (DOD), Office of Small Business Programs for outstanding mentor-protégé teams. By 2006, Kerma joined Owens & Minor's Top 50 Supplier Listing and earned Owens & Minor's Supplier of the Year Award.

Kerma manufactures soft goods, including burn dressing pads, fetal monitor belts, disposable washcloths and baby bonnets. Kerma also assembles and/or packages elastic bandages, telemetry pouches, disposable face shields, digital thermometers, stethoscopes and blood pressure cuffs. Many of these products are part of Owens & Minor's MediChoice private-label offering.

Kerma believes product selection, quality exceeding customer expectations, competitive pricing, timely delivery and excellent customer service are central contributors to its ongoing success.

MAC Medical Supply Company

MAC Medical Supply Company, a medical-surgical supply manufacturer and distributor with a national customer base, is a woman-owned business certified by the Women's Business Enterprise National Council.

The company started as provider of technically advanced products and services for the cardiology and electrophysiology fields and continuously expanded its product line in the medical-surgical arena with a strengthened focus on medical supplies. In 2000, entrepreneur Millie Maddocks acquired and incorporated the supplies division that today is MAC Medical Supply Company.

MAC Medical's product line includes a broad selection of medical and surgical supplies such as blood pressure devices and accessories, chemotherapy protection and safety products, defibrillator supplies, disposable electrodes, EKG cables and respiratory products.

In 2003, MAC Medical became a supplier to Owens & Minor, providing medical imaging and recording chart papers under the preferred supplier program. In 2007, MAC Medical became Owens & Minor's MediChoice private-label supplier for medical recording chart papers and enzymatic instrument cleaners. In that same year, Owens & Minor and MAC Medical formed a Mentor-Protégé relationship under the Department of Defense Small Business Office, signifying a new stage of growth for MAC. This Mentor-Protégé relationship with Owens & Minor continues today.

In 2009, Ms. Maddocks was honored to be selected as a participant in the Inc. Magazine-William J. Clinton Foundation Partnership's 2009-2010 Entrepreneur Mentoring program.

MAC Medical holds GPO contracts with HealthTrust Purchasing Group (HPG), Consorta and the Department of Defense (DAPA). The company also holds FSS contracts with the Veterans Administration and is an authorized distributor for MedAssets.

Medical Resources

Medical Resources was founded in 1987 by Suzi Reichenbach and is a certified woman-owned business enterprise.

Medical Resources is dedicated to providing quality medical equipment and supplies, technical expertise, superior service and cost effective pricing to healthcare professionals, ambulatory surgery centers and hospitals. Getting its start as an office furniture dealer, Medical Resources soon expanded its offering to include floor and wall coverings, and cabinetry and today its line also includes medical equipment and supplies.

Medical Resources manufactures stainless steel warming cabinets, instrument tables, scrub sinks, case carts, endoscope drying cabinets, storage cabinets, case carts and custom cabinetry. Medical Resources provides interior design services, space planning, standardization programs, seating, recliners, desks, cabinetry, tables, bariatric furniture, lab cabinetry, panel systems, filing, shelving, storage solutions, artwork and accessories. Medical Resources also provides automated, computerized remote temperature and humidity monitoring solutions designed to monitor, record, and alert pharmacy, dietary, SPD, blood bank, and laboratory departments as well as offsite facilities.

Medical Resources provides stainless steel warming cabinets for Owens & Minor's MediChoice brand products.

Medikmark, Inc.

Medikmark, Inc. was founded in 1987 and is a veteran-owned, small business. Medikmark is a manufacturer of sterile and non-sterile nursing care kits and medical contract packaging services. Medikmark is a leading supplier of standard and custom medical procedural kits and trays offering a complete line of products ranging from standard and custom dressing change, IV start and laceration kits and trays to IV sets, dialysis and staff protection kits, trach care trays, instrument trays and sterile solutions for a wide variety of healthcare uses.

Medikmark's FDA registered location in Waukegan, IL, contains a certified Class 100,000 clean room for procedural kit and tray production and a certified Class 10,000 clean room for sterile solution production. Its versatile production capabilities and flexible staffing enables it to respond to customers of all sizes—with small, medium and large production requirements.

Medikmark serves as a supplier of minor and custom procedure kits and trays for the MediChoice product line. MediChoice kits from Medikmark can be customized to a customer's exact specifications including contents, quantities, and brand name of components.

Medi-Tech International Corp.

Medi-Tech International Corporation has been producing a high-quality line of wound management products for hospitals, extended care facilities and physician offices since 1971. Its product development focuses on providing a more comfortable wound management experience for the patient, while also saving time and money for the healthcare provider. The company's customer base is international, yet it maintains its manufacturing operations in the United States.

In 2007, the New York-based company changed its diversity supplier status to Small Disadvantaged Business when it began functioning as a woman-owned company.

Medi-Tech invented the original tubular elastic dressing retainer net, Spandage™, and later followed suit with the MT Spandage™ line. In addition to these innovative dressing securement products, Medi-Tech also offers skin therapy washes and lotions, wound care/burn dressings, mesh briefs and a patient safety product.

Medi-Tech has been an Owens & Minor partner since 2001, and manufactures MediChoice tubular net bandages and MediChoice disposable mesh briefs.

OP-marks, Inc.

OP-marks, Inc., is a woman-owned and operated business specializing in surgical site marking products, specifically designed to help surgeons and institutions guard against wrong-site surgeries. OP-marks products are used throughout the United States and Canada.

Since its founding in 2004, OP-marks has been an innovator in the field of surgical site marking. OP-marks was the first to introduce the mini skin marker—now the industry standard site marking tool. It is the only company that supplies these markers in proof-of-use packaging to guard against cross-contamination of resistant pathogens. OP-marks was also the first company to introduce temporary skin laminates as site marking devices. These also have become the industry standards for site marking Ophthalmology and ENT patients.

In collaboration with the Georgia Institute of Technology and Research, OP-marks developed the first truly "prep-proof" ink for site marking patients. This revolutionary hybrid ink ensures that the surgical site remains clearly marked after any form of surgical skin prep.

Trinity Sterile, Inc.

Trinity Sterile Inc. acquired the healthcare kit-packing capabilities of Trinity Laboratories Inc. in 2004 to form its current company specializing in both sterile and non-sterile kits and related medical supplies. The Maryland-based company is a certified minority-owned business enterprise, with 70 percent of its employees having a minority status.

Since its acquisition, Trinity's sales have nearly quadrupled, and employment has doubled. Combined, company management has more than 100 years experience in production and distribution.

Trinity Sterile's product line includes sterile convenience kits and accessories, ranging from catheter insertion kits and tracheostomy care kits to a wide range of IV start kits. Trinity also carries non-sterile items such as tourniquets, ear cures and floor-grade instruments.

Trinity sterilizes all products in-house, to ensure both strict adherence to its quality standards throughout the manufacturing process and quick response times. Within its 45,000 square-foot facility is a Class 10,000 clean room where employees assemble all products.

Trinity Sterile supplies standard and custom kits and trays to the MediChoice product line.

About MediChoice®

MediChoice® is Owens & Minor's brand of medical-surgical products and equipment that is growing to meet the changing needs of healthcare. The MediChoice® product portfolio reflects Owens & Minor's longstanding commitment to building strong and diverse supply chain relationships. Products we source from women-, minority- and veteran-owned businesses make up over one-third of the MediChoice® product line.

About Owens & Minor

Owens & Minor, Inc., a FORTUNE 500 company headquartered in Richmond, Virginia, is the leading distributor of national name-brand medical and surgical supplies and a healthcare supply chain management company. With a diverse product and service offering and distribution centers throughout the United States, the company serves hospitals, integrated healthcare systems, alternate care locations, group purchasing organizations, and the federal government.
