

event, what are we left with? We are all certainly left with precious memories of being with good friends in a V-twin wonderland.

Sturgis' Diamond Anniversary
HAPPY TRAILS

The rally offered every possible kind of entertainment, from mild and family oriented, to forms of debauchery that push the envelope well passed the sticky part.

The Sturgis Rally is a state of mind that every rider can keep with them and access every day. The incredible rides through the Black Hills and the sense of the sacred Dakota land mixes with the laughter found around campfires and stories told of amazing exploits on the roads to this motorcycle gathering of the tribes. No matter where you live or who you are, Sturgis provides you with an instant family to party with—an incredibly BIG family.

As the rally began to wind down, I asked our editors what the most unusual thing they actually heard someone say was during the Rally. Steve "Beatnik" Werner took the prize with an account of a late-night juice and smoke session over at the Chubbs Brothers house on Lazelle. The house is known to offer extreme fun in many forms. The stripper pole out in the front yard is proof of that. It seems that the fun turned to drinking body shots off the lithe body of one particular stripper. In a sort of "anal luge," the Chubbs Challenge that night involved lapping up the high octane happy sauce off of this giggling gal's butt. She was actually heard to exclaim, "That's the most saliva I've ever had on my butt!" It's good to have goals in life.

Much like the saliva on that stripper's butt, the 75th Sturgis Rally has dried up and moved on, but memories of the wet, wild fun remains on the lips of all who rode there, like a kiss from God.

—Dave Nichols

PHOTOS: MARSHALL LUCHER

