Works well when needed

Having spent a lot of $$$ on migraine medications for my wife, I found this product at a local health food store and tried it. If taken when the first signs of a migraine headache materialize, it is very effective in stopping it's progress to a full-blown migraine headache. It is also helpful in minimizing the frequency of headaches. I do strongly recommended Migraide as it has made a big difference for my wife. I will say that it does not ALWAYS work as some headaches are going to manifest even with prescription medications but, Migraide has been 95% effective for us.
