Accurate and easy to use, our ovulation tests (also called LH tests) are designed to detect the rise in hormones that happen one or two days before ovulation is due. Ovulation tests are a great way to get better precision when finding your fertile window.

Ovulation tests work by detecting the presence of luteinizing hormone (LH) in urine. An increase of LH indicates that ovulation is about to happen.

However, it does not confirm that ovulation has or will happen.

- To use our ovulation tests, collect a urine sample in a clean container. Dip the ovulation test strip into the cup and submerge for 10 seconds. Leave the test strip on a flat surface. The result will be visible after a few minutes. If you're using Natural Cycles, you will get prompted on the best days to take an ovulation test.
- Natural Cycles users can get even more from ovulation tests, as these can give the app's algorithm a boost in finding your fertile window. This means more green (non-fertile) days for those using Natural Cycles as birth control, while those planning a pregnancy get an even clearer idea of their most fertile days.
- Our ovulation tests are safe to use and are FDA Cleared in the US

Product Description

When and how to measure LH

In the Natural Cycles app, we'll tell you when it's time to test LH. You can see if you should take a test in the today view in your predictions.

The test measures LH levels in your urine. Read the instructions on the packet carefully before taking a test.

How to read the results

Both lines must be equally strong to confirm a positive LH test. If you see a positive test but no ovulation is confirmed in the Natural Cycles app, it means the algorithm can't confirm ovulation from the temperature data. If this happens, keep measuring!

Why testing LH is beneficial

Testing for LH is optional in the Natural Cycles app. It helps the algorithm narrow down the fertile window and find ovulation. However, prevent users get roughly 5% more non-fertile days and plan users get more precision around ovulation with positive LH tests.

I bought these to use along with the Natural Cycles app. They are a great addition and help the app's algorithm target my ovulation so I can avoid pregnancy. Hands down, this is the best birth-control method I've ever used!

About this item

- ✓ Annual subscription includes daily fertility statuses, so you'll know if today is a red (fertile) day or a green (non-fertile) day, determined by our fertility finding algorithm. This uses temperature data to find where you are in your cycle, predicting and confirming fertile days.
- ✓ Your subscription also includes a basal body thermometer, this measures body temperature to 2 decimal places - this is more sensitive than a regular fever thermometer as it detects shifts in temperature that happen during the menstrual cycle. Take your temperature when you wake up, enter it into the app and you'll receive a fertility status for the day.
- ✓ The world's first birth control app, hormone-free and tailored to you, NC° Birth Control finds your fertile days so you can effectively prevent pregnancy. Discover your unique cycle with 100% hormone-free birth control.
- ✓ NC° Birth Control is a regulated medical device that's cleared by the US FDA, based on the analysis of over 15,000 women. The study found NC° Birth Control to be 93% effective with typical use and 98% effective with perfect use.

The code did not work!! It kept prompting me to pay.

Reviewed in the United States on April 29, 2022

I entered the code and according to the app there was an error. I tried getting back to the app after utilizing the code and receiving a receipt and the app kept asking me to purchase the subscription again. If you are going to charge people $89 dollars for an app, you should have a good working app. Customer Service Sucks! Btw
